Warning they like to kill, if they can???

I like to kill people, it is enjoyable, for me, I believe that I am helping them, By killing them, But I lie, I am envious of the better life that they have, but you should not do this, but I do this, why am I correct in doing this!????@#$%^ I try to force the bad life onto other people because it would be a good punishment for whoever or whatever desires it. It is good because a good life to live is short lived, because my harm is bad having killed most of the human race by trespassing, the bad life, and forcing the life onto other people to worry about, thus, I am trying to live the good life longer, because, I do not like to live a worse life, then my current life! This is why I do this. I try to avoid the Bad Life to live, for my life under too much pressure, so I get my Gun from the front hall closet, and find something to shoot at, hoping to kill the other life, the other other life, to worry about life I do not want. So I try to push buttons & Force people to harm other people, because I then prey to my father, who is a false god, who will help me to kill a life to get rid of the life I do not want, and do not want to, be under this much presser and this much pain!

More to Come!...
