

Joke : So there were (2) Coffee Bean tree's living side by side. One was dark roast, and the other regular roast. The dark roast bragged and boasted, about how great it's coffee beans were, but the regular roast just said, "I don't care". At first both tree's had plenty of rainfall. And, the argument went on for some time. Then the rain ended over the Dark Roast tree, and the Dark roast tree said to the regular roast tree, "Can I have some of the water you're getting?". The regular roast tree said "Sure, come and get it!" So, the Dark Roast Tree, uprooted itself to move closer to where the rain was. Then one day, some farmer heard about this story, and he said, to the regular roast tree, "Why are you harming my Dark Roast Tree?" But, there was no reply. So the farmer cut down the regular Roast tree, to punish it, for what it had done unto the Dark Roast tree. The regular roast tree had plenty of beans on it, but, the dark roast tree had few. So the Farmer gave the dark roast tree water, and after awhile, it started to grow more beans. The farmer thought about what to do with the regular roast tree, and he decided, "I'll just harvest it's beans, and burn the tree in a fire!" Later on the farmer, thought about drinking some coffee. So he, brewed the beans of the regular tree. Enjoying, a cup of it's coffee, he said to himself, "This is the best cup of coffee I have ever had!" How stupid of me! I destroyed, the tree that grew, this wonderful cup of coffee...How will I get more coffee after my harvest run's out? So the farmer's coffee ran out...The harvest time arrived for the dark roast coffee...The farmer harvested the dark roast beans. Brewed himself a cup of coffee. Tasted it, and said "Yuck!" This is awful, tastes bad. After all of the effort I spent on you, "Dark Roast Tree". What a waste of effort! So the farmer prayed, and asked God to grow him another "Regular Roast Tree"
